Working with vulnerable children, youth, their families, and their communities

May, 2016

Children

With your support we continue to be able to provide opportunities for disadvantaged children to embrace their childhood and gain the skills they need to grow up into responsible, productive adults.

Little children, like one-year old Dary, are getting the medical care allowing her older sister to return to school.

Older youth, like 19-year old Ny, are completing vocational training programs that provide skills to enter the workforce with marketable skills and confidence.

Families

Whenever possible, children grow up best in their own loving families. Sometimes families just need help to fulfill their roles as parents.

Sreypech, one of the newest mothers in our Home-Based Production Program, is now working from home so she can better care for her daughter with Special Needs.

The new 'Futures' program is assisting fathers like Chenda secure steady employment so they can provide for their families.

Communities

Each month our teams meet with groups in local neighborhoods and villages to provide information and raise awareness of issues that affect children. Topics such as child's rights and child abuse, health issues, domestic violence, drugs prevention and alcohol abuse.

We are very proud to have the involvement of so many local community members in the ChildSafe Movement. So far in 2016, 15 new members have been recruited and trained, bringing the total to just over 1,000 ChildSafe Movement members in Sihanoukville.

M'Lop Tapang has been working with disadvantaged children, youth and families of Sihanoukville since 2003.
